“Whether you are currently employed in the industry or looking to change careers, the Master of Finance program provides you with in-depth knowledge, hands-on modeling, and quantitative skills to help you become a leader in the complex and sophisticated field of finance. We structure the rigorous online courses to build on your foundational knowledge and skill sets and enable you to interact with outstanding faculty and first-rate peers in a rich learning environment.”

—Dr. Qiang (Patrick) Qiang, Professor in Charge
Master of Finance Program

Penn State's Master of Finance

If you're interested in a career in financial management or investment management, or would like to prepare for various professional certifications, including the CFA, this cohort program can help you achieve those goals. The curriculum offers a balance of practical business application and advanced financial theory so that you are able to apply what you're learning to your current role and gain the theoretical knowledge you need to address future challenges in the financial marketplace.

The 33-credit online program uses a cohort model in which all students in a cohort progress through the courses together. This model facilitates collaborative teamwork so you can build relationships and network with other high-caliber professionals in the program. It also allows the program's content to be integrated across courses so you can address the same financial scenarios from multiple perspectives.

The first six courses in the program are designed to provide you with a common body of knowledge in finance, with topics centered on:

- › financial accounting theory
- › quantitative methods
- › corporate financial modeling
- › financial and speculative markets

The next four courses are designed to give you additional expertise in corporate finance and investments.

A 3-credit capstone course provides a culminating experience for you to synthesize your analytical abilities to identify strategies that enhance value creation.

Why Penn State?

Proven Leadership in Quality Online Delivery

An Exceptional Student/Alumni Body

Whether you take our courses online or in a traditional classroom, you become a “Penn Stater,” who is part of:

- › an institution with more than 150 years of excellence in teaching, research, and service
- › a proud network of more than 775,000 alumni located around the world, with representation in hundreds of professions. Take advantage of our vast alumni network to help you advance your career.

Reputation

Having a Penn State degree on your résumé is a great way to broaden your career options and prove to current and potential employers that you are a well-educated professional. No distinction will be made on your official Penn State transcript or diploma that your courses were completed online.

Accreditation

Penn State is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and has an outstanding reputation as a research and teaching university. Penn State Great Valley is also AACSB–accredited, the highest standard of achievement for business schools, worldwide.

Faculty Expertise

All of the courses in the online program are designed and taught by Penn State professors who teach in the residential program at Penn State Great Valley School of Graduate Professional Studies. The program’s faculty are known for their exceptional credentials, research, and industry experience, which help them understand your academic needs and career interests.

Library Services

As a Penn State World Campus student, you will have access to one of the largest research library collections in North America — the Penn State University Libraries system, which holds more than 800 online research databases, 110,000 scholarly journals, and 1 million electronic books. You can search the online catalog and review databases as if you were sitting at a terminal in any Penn State library.
